

ACADEMIC HONOR CODE

The Academic Honor Code (<https://www.ncf.edu/departments/office-of-the-general-counsel/regulations-policies-procedures/>) (NCF Policy 4.3005) outlines the expectations for all NCF students' academic work, the procedures for resolving alleged violations of those expectations, and the rights and responsibilities of students and faculty throughout the determinative process. applies to any NCF student enrolled in any NCF course or program. This policy also applies to all faculty, staff, and NCF students involved in addressing allegations of violations of this policy by a student. When appropriate, this Code is designed to be educational in nature and to afford students minimum due process protections at every level.

Faculty and Instructors are responsible for following and reinforcing the importance of this Academic Honor Code in their courses and for clarifying in writing their expectations, including but not limited to: source citation, collaboration and multiple submission of academic work, including the authorized use of artificial intelligence.

For additional information, please contact the Office of the Provost, College Hall, provost@ncf.edu.